Reflection on Sunday's Gospel

The Word of God Does Not Go on Holidays.

22nd Sunday Ordinary Time 30th August, 2015 Mark 7:1-8, 14-15, 21-23

In today's gospel we see how Gods commandments show us the need for justice, generosity and respect for all people. Jesus also explains that rules are not the be all and end all. The source of the commandments and the motivations for our actions are vital. What is in ones heart is more important than what is on one's hands, as the heart is the true indication of purity. "The people honour me only with lip service, while their hearts are far from me. The worship they offer me is worthless, the doctrines they teach are only human regulations". How have you found that being judgemental does not necessarily make you a good person? Lord help us to see that Gods commandments are given to us as a guiding light to help us travel life's journey. Help us also to realise that the heart is more important than what is on one's hands, as the heart is the true indicator of purity.
