VENERABLE MATT TALBOT DAY 6TH JULY
This Sunday is set aside for us to reflect, to pray and to focus our attention on the person and life of Matt Talbot with particular focus on his tremendous faith and how he lived our that faith in his daily life amidst very difficult times in Dublin.

Today we live in an age of addictions more sophisticated perhaps than those of Matt's day, addictions to substances such as alcohol and other drugs sort or hard, prescription or illegal, addictions to gambling, pornography and the internet, addictions to word, professional advancement, sex, money and power. Matt sets before us a radical example which demonstrates that ordinary people can do extraordinary things. His life is a witness to the fact that people can by God's grace and their own self acceptance say no to that which leads to addiction or addictive behaviours and that in the meantime our communities must never lose hope and must continue to care for them. Matt's example has inspired many institutions, movements and individuals around the world giving hope of recovery to those who are willing to accept their weakness and need. Such people stand as beacons in our world to the truth that we can overcome addiction free rise above our weakness and achieve great things even sainthood. By following the example of Matt Talbot you tell the world that there is more to life than "sex, drugs and rock n roll", that there is hope for every broken heart and that by God's love his kingdom comes into our hearts, our homes and our world.
